

Infopack - " BY THE WAVES OF DIGITAL "

Castelo de Vide – 23-31 March 2023

1. Training overview:

With the “By the Waves of Digital” project, we intend to provide the participants in the activity with more technical skills and a better understanding on how to organize a digital radio and prepare them to be fundamental pieces in the consolidation of the “Youth Digital Radio Network”, a network that will group the radio stations involved in this project and all the others that want to join it. We feel that digital radio can be an unblocker when it comes to communication with young people and communities/territories. Working in a network, we will have a greater scope and impact. The objectives are the foundation stones of our project:- Promote the development of local and regional communities, in the most diverse aspects;- Promote democracy and the active participation of citizens;- Give space to young people to express themselves in an open digital community; - Develop the feeling of belonging to the European space; - Promote activities and programs for young people, namely the Erasmus+ Programme; - Make sustained use of non-formal education as a communication tool; - Generate/deepen digital skills in participants; - Create a network of young digital radios in Europe.

The project's main activity is training for youth workers, journalists, radio technicians, producers and association leaders. What unites them is the desire to, using the digital radio tool, be able to reach their target audiences, which are young people and communities, in a faster and more accessible way. For this, and as we usually do, we will use methodologies and working methods from non-formal education such as debates, working groups, presentation of conclusions, World Café, Lotus Blossom, Open Space Technology, Matrix and other dynamics that will motivate participants and will help them to assimilate knowledge. The activity program also includes two trips and some moments of decompression such as intercultural evenings and the viewing of a film. The training will take place in Castelo de Vide between the 23rd and 31st of March 2023 and will have 33 participants from 11 countries, representing 12 associations.
