

Position: Junior Graphic Designer (Hybrid)

Working Hours: 30 hours

Start Date: January 1, 2024

Location: Exarchia, Athens, Greece

Application Deadline: December 28, 2023

Responsibilities:

Create social media assets: Develop weekly social media content, event visuals, and other digital elements for online use with a consistent and recognisable style.

Design print materials: Including posters, flyers, manuals, toolkits, and reports. Generate cover art and layouts for publications released by Inter Alia.

Develop distinctive visuals: Create engaging visual aesthetics for various international projects, such as logos, social media templates, and digital and print materials.

Web design: Maintain and update the Inter Alia website and project sites.

Video editing (Occasional): Edit videos for social media, involving tasks like compiling clips, selecting music, and adding design overlays.

Skills:

- Graphic and digital design.
- Proficient in relevant software, programs, and applications (e.g. Photoshop & Illustrator).
- Basic video editing skills.
- Self-motivated and detail-oriented.
- Fluency in both English and Greek.

Background:

Demonstrable skills in digital design across various platforms, including social media, websites, graphics, basic animation, and video editing, are highly valued. We are seeking a motivated and skilled individual passionate about using design to drive civic engagement and facilitate positive societal change.

Why Inter Alia?

At Inter Alia, our mission is to inspire and foster transformation in our local and global communities. We provide an opportunity to contribute to a well-established organisation, enhancing its local and transnational societal impact by leading and shaping our visual identity and design language.

Please send us your Portfolio and a letter of motivation (up to 250 words) explaining your interest in working with us at info@interaliaproject.com indicating “Junior Graphic Designer” in the subject.